Twenty-eight Coeds To Vie For Tomahawk Queen Title

Twenty-eight contestants for the 1955 Tomahawk Beauty Contest were announced this week by general chairman, Joyce Wright. The contest will be at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the Auditorium. There are five women from each sorority and the Independent Student Association, and three unaffiliated students.

Contestants are Gayle Anderson, Nancy Fitt, Gloria Hattam, Mary Strater and Carol Wallen of Alpha Xi Delta; Gayle Chapman, Sue Forrey, Sandra Gosch, Jo Snyder and Marcia Wetzler of Chi Omega.

Others are Deanne Alger, Judy Bushel, Barbara Harpool, JoAnne McLellan and Joyce Workman, of ISA; Wendy Barnesburger, Dorothy Carroll, Margorie Fokken, Nancy Martin and Nancy Morris, of Sigma Kappa, and Mary Ann Brereton, Pat Conley and Gwen Stoller, who are unaffiliated.

Marilyn Jones, Pat Kasper, Annette Nicas, Carol Tietgen and Jo Wells will represent Zeta Tau Alpha.

Rehearsals for contestants were yesterday, and will be held today at 2 p. m. in the Auditorium. All contestants must have attended both rehearsals to be eligible.

Each woman will appear in a street length dress and in a formal. There will be approximately four rounds to the contest, until only ten finalists remain. From these ten will be chosen the first, second and third place winners and two runners-up. Miss Carole Kratky, 1954 Tomahawk Beauty Queen, will present the new Queen with a dozen red roses.

The stage will have a 12-foot Christmas tree on one side, and a baby grand piano on the other. Gay Smith will play the piano during the contest; and during intermission, Bob Kidd and his combo will play.

Stage crews have been appointed by Dr. Edwin L. Clark, head of the Dramatics Department. John Welch will be general stage manager, and Betty Ellsworth and Tom Finley will be in charge of lighting.

ROTC Personnel 'Clutch' in Picture

Air Force ROTC personnel "clutched" last week when they had picture proof of themselves in the wrong salute.

Personnel presented Air Science cadet awards with a photographer on hand to record the ceremonies. A cadet developed the prints, but, in the process, reversed the negative so that the entire picture was backwards.

Ribbons appeared on the right side of the uniform; salutes were presented over the left eye.

Military order of about face was given. New developments are underway.

Chem Department Expands with OU

OU's Chemistry department has grown this year.

All offices have been moved to the fourth floor. There is also a great deal more storage space. The Chemistry majors now have a room where they can read the latest chemistry books and magazines. This room is also used for discussions with instructors.

Other new conveniences in the department are the new steel cabinets and shelving. Everything is now indexed and organized in its place. There are also small number of non-breakable glass flasks.

New fluorescent lights have been installed in the fourth floor hall. There is also a plan for adding another small laboratory on this floor.

The work is not yet completed, but it is well underway.

Next-Semester Juniors Need Major Advisors

All students advancing to junior standing this semester are advised to see their academic counselors about being assigned a major advisor.

If at the beginning of this semester a student had 27 to 57 hours, they were of sophomore standing. If at the end of this semester the total is 58 to 90 hours, the student is of junior standing. After seeing their counselors, these people should see their respective academic deans who will assign the major advisor.

It was suggested by Dr. Gale Oleson, head of the Bureau of Testing, Counseling and Research, that this be done prior to Christmas vacation. Only three days will remain after vacation before registration.

Students Give Suggestions At Prexy Party

Comments of students attending the Prexy Party last week proclaimed the 1955 Homecoming a success. Presidents of 28 campus organizations met with the Student Council to evaluate the reorganized Homecoming ceremonies.

The group offered one suggestion that pertains to the overall celebration. They recommended that a better public address system be used. Unfortunately few speeches were heard at either the bonfire or the halftime ceremonies of the OU-Idaho State game when the system failed.

The presidents felt that the bonfire was the most successful in the history of the University. However, more publicity could have made it an even bigger success. For the first time the Princess was revealed at the bonfire-rally.

The group also suggested lighting the bonfire after the speeches so that the crowd could gather closer and that perhaps floodlights should be used during the speeches and presentation.

Several presidents felt that in order to have more students help construct the two floats entered in the downtown parade, each organization could be provided with a time schedule which they would be responsible to fill.

Committee Plans To Judge Songs

Members of the committee to choose the final five entries in the GATEWAY school song contest will meet next week. Dr. James Peterson, head of the Music Department, is chairman of the panel of seven judges selected by the GATEWAY staff.

Thirteen songs were entered in the contest. The final five songs selected by the judges will be presented at a student convocation for final decision. The Student Council will verify decision of the students and designate that song as the official Omaha U song. All songs will be filed for future use.

Advanced harmony classes will prepare arrangements of the songs to be presented at the convocation.

Judges assisting Dr. Peterson will be Betty Ellsworth, GATEWAY editor; Jim Erixson, Alumni Executive Secretary; Dr. Leslie Garlough, head of General Science Department; C. Glenn Lewis, Business Administration; Dr. Jay B. MacGregor, Dean of Student Personnel and Lew Radcliffe, Student Council president.

Applications Due For Staff Editor

Student applications for the spring semester editorship of the GATEWAY must be filed by Dec. 8 with Paul V. Peterson, chairman of the Board of Student Publications.

Any full-time University student is eligible to apply. The student should include in his application his name, resume of journalism experience, courses beneficial for the position, reasons for wanting the editorship and any other pertinent information.

Applicants will be interviewed at the Dec. 12 meeting of the Board of Publications. Announcement of the editor will be made at the January meeting.

Students To Give Speech Program

OU Governments Lead Competition

A comparison of the Omaha University governing bodies with those of Bucknell University in Lewisburg, Pa., proves that OU has again out-distanced competing schools.

The Student-Faculty Congress at the Pennsylvania school this year decided to strengthen their student government and bring it in closer contact with students. They are basing their recommendations on results of a visit to Pennsylvania State University by the "Congress Committee to Visit Other Student Governments."

Bucknell Recommends Special Group

That committee recommended establishment of a special "channeling committee" to handle much of the routine SFC business. Omaha U has no such provision, however, it reaches the students directly through all-school election of Student Council members and through representation of all students at monthly Prexy Parties where University standards are discussed prior to Council action.

The Board of Student Publications, composed of two student-elected representatives, the GATEWAY and Tomahawk editors, University Business Manager and Vice-president and appointed faculty members, handles other student-faculty activities.

Considers "Town & Gown" Group

Bucknell is also considering a "Town and Gown" committee to foster good relations between the school and the local community. Again, Omaha U, as a municipal university, has the advantage of pre-established community relations strengthened by providing meeting rooms for several local governing groups, and the annual World-Affairs Institute. The civic and academic record of faculty and students and their organized "Town and Gown" club is outstanding.

The only recommendation of Bucknell which Omaha U does not provide is direct election by the faculty of their representative on SFC. In the past, several of Bucknell's faculty members pointed out that as merely appointees of SFC, they could not truly represent the faculty point of view. The OU faculty is represented on the Council by three Deans from the Dean of Student Personnel office.

Three Awards Earned By Two OU Forensics

Two Omaha University students received recognition for their participation in the Bradley University Forensics Tournament Nov. 18 and 19.

"Excellent" awards in discussion went to Jean Bednar and Carolyn Nevins. Miss Nevins also received "excellent" in extempore speaking.

These students also participated in debate.

The new OU library, capable of holding 250,000 volumes, will officially open some time in January.

Choral speaking will be the theme of WOW-TV's program in the "Doors of Knowledge" series next Wednesday. The program will feature Dr. J. D. Tyson's speech for teachers class.

The program will open with Psalm 24, representing the earliest forms of choric verse. Then several pre-school children will demonstrate the use of speech and finger-plays in the classroom.

Speech jingles for corrective purposes, and rhymes for training of small school children will also be presented.

The program will close with choric speaking on the high school level, as the entire class dramatizes a selection from Lincoln's "Gettysburg Address."

General chairman for the program are Mary Lou Hoffman and Jo Little.

Orchestra Appeared Last Week

Orchestra, modern dance group, was featured on the series last Wednesday.

Girls who participated were Ann Ahlstrand, Pat Barnum, Shirley Barnum, Judy Bondurant, Marilyn Brandes, Gayle Chapman, Betty Coleman, Neva Goss, Janet Hanson, Roberta Kucera, and Jeanne Vogt.

Miss Marilyn Nass, modern dance instructor, narrated the program.

Tomahawk Staff Meets Deadline

The Tomahawk staff met their first deadline Wednesday night. They will now start taking organization pictures as soon as those desiring space pay the fees. These fees must be paid by Dec. 16.

At the Nov. 28 meeting of the Board of Student Publications it was decided that students who have attended the University for just one semester this year will pay two dollars for their year-books.

The faculty will be charged for their Tomahawks according to printing and compilation cost of the book, which is now estimated to be $4.50 per book. There will be no charge for full time students as the cost of their books is taken out of the student activity fund.

Agency Applies to OU On Union Construction

The first of the formal applications from the Housing and Home Financing Agency, relative to the construction of a new Dormitory and Student Union, have been received, Vice President Charles Hoff announced.

The applications will be returned to Washington together with information concerning the increase in enrollment at Omaha University and with estimates of growth over a ten-year period.

Choir Sings for Church Council at Celebration

The University Choir sang at the Fifth Annual celebration dinner of the National Council Churches of Christ Tuesday at the Legion Club Palm room.

Janice Collins, sophomore, was soloist in "I Want Jesus to Walk With Me." James Felton, senior music major, accompanied the group on the organ for two numbers.

Dance Tryouts Set for Thursday

Men wanted! Many men. And women, too.

Dance tryouts for OU's spring musical (results to be announced later) will be next week. From 7 to 9:30 p. m. next Thursday, tryouts will be in the Auditorium. Students who cannot attend Thursday's tryouts may audition from 3:30 to 5 p. m. next Friday in the West Quonset.

"No previous dance training is necessary, nor do students have to be a member of Orchestis or any athletic organization," said Mrs. Lou Templeton, in charge of dancing tryouts. "Only good coordination and a willingness to put in time for practice are necessary."

In the past, men have been reticent to perform as male dancers, even though many are needed for the productions.

Omaha Store 'Salutes' OU

Omaha University was the subject of the eighth of a series of Brandels' salutes to Omaha institutions last Sunday over WOW-TV.

Newscaster Ray Clark introduced President Milo Bail, who briefly sketched the University's history, and discussed activities of all colleges at OU.

Dean William H. Thompson of the College of Arts and Sciences was shown conferring with students, and Dean C. W. Helmsteadter, of the College of Applied Arts and Sciences, was shown supervising a class in mechanical drawing. Also shown was the College of Education, in which students practiced teaching. The Department of Home Economics was also depicted.

The scene then shifted to Lew Radcliffe, Student Council president, who commented on the Homecoming activities and the sports program at OU.

Editorially Speaking . . .

Why Abuse OU Privilege?

There's sabotage around the OU campus.

It was thought that the parking meters were generally accepted by all students. The issue seemed past the problem stage. But there is a problem. And it's a problem that could disgrace the University.

The University provided three coin changing machines for the convenience of its student drivers. But one student is taking advantage of the service.

Copper washers pressed around the outside of a penny have been used successfully as quarters. The person using this means of gaining five nickels for the price of one cent is committing a federal offense by defacing currency, but more than that, he is degrading himself in view of his students.

The slug is successful in returning money to the person using it, however it jams the machine for future users.

Another penny has been found defaced in such a manner to substitute for a dime in the coin machine.

If the use of defaced coins does not cease, it will be necessary to remove the coin machines. It would seem that honor alone would be enough to correct this abuse of a University privilege.

Let's Get Behind Our Team

Basketball should mean more this year to University students than ever before.

For the first time Omaha's team will participate in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics basketball tournament. Top small college teams will meet in Omaha for the tournament from December 28 to 30.

Basketball spirit has continually dwindled at the University. Perhaps it is because games are scheduled during week nights, or it may be because publicity is not forceful enough.

To help correct the latter possibility, the GATEWAY will try to bring game dates a week in advance to the students by boxing the next week's schedule on the sports page.

Eleven home games, other than the NAIA tournament, and ten games away have been scheduled for the 1955-56 season.

One of the most important should be the December 10 Migration Day, sponsored by the Warriors, to Peru, Nebr. Let's get behind our team!

OU Students To View Special Film Showing

"The Private Life of Henry VIII" with Charles Laughton, Robert Donat and Merle Oberon will be shown for students Dec. 8.

The first showing of the movie will be in Room 302 from 1 p. m. to 3 p. m. and the second in the Auditorium from 3 p. m. to 5 p. m. Students who do not have classes at either of these times may attend the movie.

School District Bonds Replace Present Plan

Voters in the Omaha School District passed a 20-million-dollar bond issue on Nov. 22.

It replaces the present "pay-as-you-go" system that has been in effect since 1935. This action authorizes the Omaha School Board to float bonds to build the schools needed for the city's growing enrollment.

Ford Thunderbirds Offered as Prizes

Ten '56 Ford Thunderbirds are being offered as top prizes in the Nationwide "Name the Viceroy Filter" contest which is open only to college students.

In addition to the car, each of the ten top winners will be given an RCA Victor Big Color TV set to present to the college organization of his choice.

The object of the contest is to write the best names for the cigarette's filter. Rules are on the entry blanks which may be obtained in the GATEWAY office or in this issue of the paper.

The contest is especially designed for the busy college student. There are no letters to write, no jingles to complete and no 25 word statements to compose. Entries may be submitted on the special blanks or on a plain piece of paper.

Forty entries will be given second prizes of Columbia "360" K high fidelity phonographs in mahogany.

OPPD To Install Transformer at OU

Preparations are being made for a new sub-station to be erected by the Omaha Public Power District north of the Fieldhouse.

The new sub-station will consist of a 1,000 Kilowatt-hour transformer, one of the largest in the city. It will reduce 13,800 volts to 4,160 volts. This will be fed by lines to the Fieldhouse, Library, and the Main Building where it will be again reduced to the customary 120 volts.

Construction of the sub-station will begin after the grading operations are completed and will cost the OPPD $9,030.

The benefit of this new sub-station to OU is that electricity will come directly from the transformers. This will eliminate the extra wiring that would be needed if power came from regular city lines.

TV Sportscaster Solves Nebraska Mystery of Flag

Besides the letter printed in the "Dear Editor" column, the GATEWAY received another note from Idaho State student Rex W. Reed. It read:

"There are certain editorials in the Nebraska newspapers which interest me. They concern the 'loss' of the Nebraska flag at the Nebraska-Colorado football game at Lincoln.

Many Idaho State students were present at the game and some of us are taking a personal interest in the outcome of the search. I would like any clippings you can obtain on the subject.

A Chap Named Shephard

If you are interested in the flag you might watch a certain sports program. I believe a chap named Shephard on TV down your way will have something to say on the subject soon.

If you happen to see his program and anything interesting shows up you might write me an article on it because our TV channels do not carry your channels.

Phone Call Gains Results

On the Nov. 28 "Camera on Sports" broadcast at KMTV where Steve Shephard works, he revealed a picture of the recovered Nebraska University victory flag. Shephard has since returned it to the school's athletic director Bill Orwig.

Shephard said when he learned the flag had disappeared and was thought to be in Pocatello, Idaho, he called some acquaintances there. He suggested that if they knew the whereabouts of the flag that it be sent to him. It was. Shephard said the 15 by 5 foot flag is worth $78.30.

This article will be forwarded to Rex W. Reed at Pocatello, Ida.

Idaho State Collegian Compliments Omahans

Editor's Note: The following letter, received from an Idaho State College student who attended the OU-ISC game, congratulates the University on its hospitality. The GATEWAY commends the student body for its spirit of public relations.

Dear Student Body:

I would like to thank you for the gracious hospitality extended to Idaho State College students when we were in Omaha for the Omaha-ISC football game. From the minute we arrived until we left, every student I met made me feel welcome.

We happened to meet some Pawnees when we arrived in Omaha, and they guided us around the town. They did not tell us how to get where; they showed us the town. Several personal invitations were extended us.

School Facilities Were Available

The next morning at your campus every student contacted treated us in a commendable manner. The facilities of your school were opened for us.

A place was made for us in your parade. Tickets for the game were available to us. We were invited to your Homecoming Dance, and every effort was made to get us dates.

At the game many of your boys made our cheering seem justified (even though we were beaten by a very good team).

Return Game Being Planned

After the game I did not feel up to much due to the score. But again your students came through. They made the game seem like it was a sport, not to be thought about too seriously. They got us back in the spirit of the occasion, and we enjoyed ourselves the rest of our stay.

Plans are now being made for a return game. I hope these plans are completed. (We will trounce you). If the game is in Omaha, I will make the trip again. If the game is here in Pocatello, I extend a hearty welcome to each and every one of you.

—Rex W. Reed.

Band Boosts Spirit Of Football Fans During Half Time

Omaha University owes a great deal to its band for keeping spirit and morale high during the football season. The band entertained before and during half times at games.

According to Arthur Custer, band director, they have developed and performed well. When the season began the band had less than 30 members. There is now a total of 48.

During the season the organization received increasingly favorable reactions from the crowds.

Now that the football season is over the members are working as a Concert Band. They will play the finest band concert music available, according to Custer.

The band will give several home concerts, beginning in February. They will also perform at various high schools.

Band spirit is high. It is a top rate organization at OU, and hopes to be one of the finest bands in the Midwest.

Annexation Action Changes Status of University Students

The recent annexation action of areas in western Omaha by the City Council has raised the question of its affect on University students.

Students residing in the areas just annexed by the city were formerly non-residents. They paid non-resident fees when they registered this fall.

No refunds will be made on fees paid this semester. Miss Alice Smith, University registrar, pointed out the statement in the University catalogue, "Residence is determined at the time of registration and cannot be changed during the semester."

However next semester these students will be residents and will have to pay just the regular resident fees.

Attorneys for some residents of the annexed areas have filed appeals against the action. If an appeal is granted, the students of those portions of the annexed areas would again be non-residents.

If the appeal comes to trial the cases will be determined in District Court.

Noted Pianist Cowell Performs for Students

Henry Cowell, guest pianist with the Omaha Symphony Orchestra Monday and Tuesday nights, presented an informal program Tuesday in the Music Room for interested students and faculty.

According to Dr. James Peterson, head of the Music Department, "He is the most versatile and prolific composer of present times. He has an original approach in his use of secondal harmony with tone clusters."

Peterson explained the harmony method. Instead of music written with the usual chording system, Cowell writes his pieces with close discords, called seconds.

Tuesday morning Cowell played a number of his own compositions which are designed to enlarge the potentialities of the piano. In

"Sinister Resonance" Cowell played with one hand on the keyboard and plucked the strings inside the piano with the other. Peterson said it gave an "extremely interesting effect."

In "Banshee" Cowell played the complete number by plucking the strings from the side of the instrument. He also used his forearm to play tone clusters.

The Irish-Scottish composer has written over 800 music works including symphonies, hymns and fugues depicting American colonial times and Gaelic and Irish tunes.

He teaches at the Peabody Conservatory of Music in Baltimore, Md., where he lives, and at Columbia University in New York City.

Five of his symphonies have been recorded by the Rochester-Eastman, the Louisville and the Vienna Philharmonic orchestras.

Cowell was entertained at a luncheon Tuesday sponsored by the Music Department for administration and faculty.

Letter Commends Fund Contribution

A letter received from the regional secretary of the World University Service congratulated Omaha U on its $281.84 contribution to that fund.

Peyton Short said, "Through your World University Service, you will again be helping to relieve the critical needs of students throughout Asia, Africa, the Middle East and still in parts of Europe. Your generous donation, along with others, will make funds available to help supply food, clothing, shelter, medical care and equipment, educational supplies, special assistance to DP students, scholarships and the like to thousands of other students throughout the under-developed, and hard-pressed countries of the world."

The secretary continued, "By participating in this world program of the World University Service, you are playing an important part in building the medical, economical, social and agricultural leadership of the future."

The fund sent by the University was a percentage of the Campus Chest drive conducted this fall.

English Instructor Gets Lead in Play

A former Omaha University student, now a full-time English instructor here, is playing the leading feminine role in the current Omaha Community Playhouse production, "The Crucible," by Arthur Miller.

Miss Anita Reznichuk portrays Elizabeth Proctor in the witch-hunting story of Salem, Mass.

Miss Reznichuk attended OU from 1951 to 1953 transferring in her junior year to the University of Iowa.

Active in the OU Dramatics Department, Miss Reznichuk was named "Outstanding Sorority Girl" in 1953 and Honorary Major of Angels. She was also president of the English Club.

OU men outnumber the women by more than two-to-one, according to the latest registration figures.

This week, courtesy of the price-less "Greek Gossip" publication, the latest comments on the parking meter situation are available to all. Certain unidentified students had the following words of wisdom to add to the already full file of parking-meter-opinion:

"I think it's simply splendid. My chauffeur brings me to school any way!"

"Really, I mean really, well, really, I... What parking meters?"

"I justsh cant' finsdh the slotsh..."

"It's costing a fortune! This interplanetary rocket of mine takes up three stalls."

One comment was unfortunately censored, and another senior felt the whole business was senseless, since he'd been feeding nickels in regularly but didn't have a car; but Officer Fred Blair climaxed the survey by mildly remarking, "I love 'em!"

The Tomahawk Beauty Contest Wednesday threatens to be the most well-attended function of the year!

Speaking of the holidays, the latest hints as to fashion know-how are in. Hundreds of dresses, literally, are awaiting your selection at the Junior Colony, 3rd floor of Brandeis.

Basket Ball Starts at OU Fieldhouse

Alumni Surprise OU Varsity, 66-60

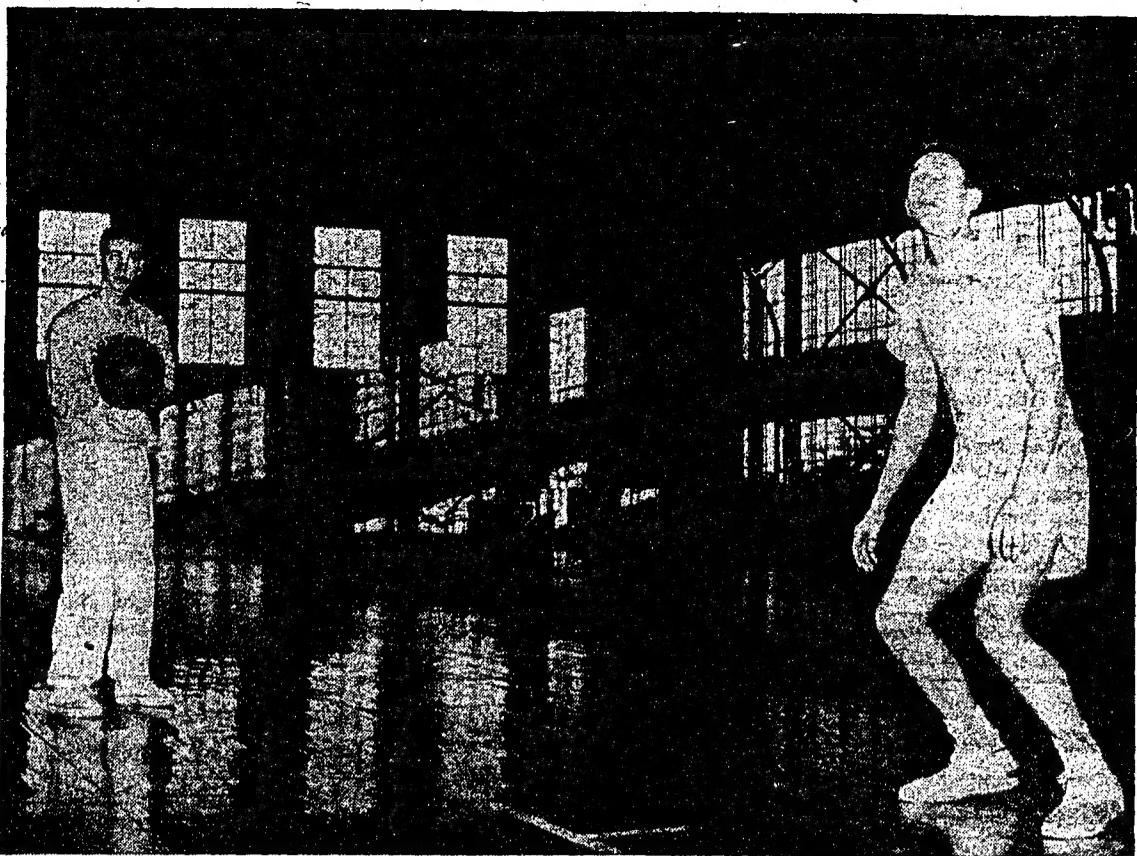

Bob Rose, a slender Negro athlete, poured in 28 points and led the University of Omaha Alumni to a 66-60 victory over the varsity last Thursday night in the Fieldhouse.

The opening basketball game saw the Indians on the short end of a 25-17 half time score. The main reason for the low score was both teams' inability to hit from the floor and not superb defense.

But a one-man rally by Rose in the fourth period quenched the varsity fire, and the alumni was never again behind.

The varsity worried the alumni in the last minute of play. They stole the ball three times in succession and scored.

Team Travels To Simpson; Plays Drake

From the Sports Desk

Basketball Coach Jack Cotton sent his chargers against Wayne State Teachers College last night.

Last year the Indians beat Wayne 72-70 and 80-68 in two close-fought games. Last night's game was the "proving ground" for Saturday night's Simpson contest and Monday's Drake game on the Bulldog home court. OU downed Simpson 65-56 and 92-62 last year, but Coach Cotton hasn't received a brochure from the team and doesn't know their present talent and capabilities.

Drake dumped Virg Yelkin's squad at Des Moines 82-63 in their only meeting of the season, and the Indians are out for revenge.

Drake Employs Fast Break

Bulldog Coach Jack McClelland employed the fast break to wear down the Indian team, and Omaha star performer Bob Mackie played the game hampered by a jammed thumb.

Athletic director Virg Yelkin said, "The Drake team had much more depth in men than we, and it showed up in the last half. It was an even game at half-time, then the effects of the fast game began to show on the Omaha boys."

Students are reminded that University basketball games are played during week days on the home court at the Fieldhouse. Game time is 8 p. m.

Next Thursday Doane College of Crete, Nebr., invades the OU campus to continue an old rivalry. The Indians topped the Tigers twice in '54 by the scores of 87-64 and 73-61.

Schaetzle High Scorer

Coach Jack Cotton will send in five lettermen in the tentative starting line up. Stan Schaetzle, second highest scorer last year with 335 points, is expected to lead the squad including Bob Sklenar, Don Meade, John Morse, and Dean Thompson.

Another top man on last year's squad is Howard Baker, senior letterman and football end. In 1954, Baker was fifth top scorer although he missed many of the earlier games due to the post-season Tangerine Bowl game on January 1.

His 196 points greatly aided the Indians to their season record of 11 for 12 on the home court and a 15-10 win loss margin.

Coach Cotton said that no information has come in of teams already participating in basketball games and that "we will just have to await the first few games out to see just what we're up against."

Papoose Plays Tonight

A complete "B" team program has been laid out by the Athletic Department. These include games with most varsity reserve opponents and also some outside games. The Papoose squad played Wayne Teachers last night, and tonight they face Luther College at Wahoo. Monday the YMCA roundball quintette comes to OU for a contest. Other games:

Dec. 8—Doane College
Dec. 10—Peru College there
Dec. 12—Offutt—here
Dec. 16—Nebr. Wesleyan—there
Jan. 12—Creighton—here
Jan. 19—YMCA—here
Jan. 31—Doane—there
Feb. 1—Offutt—here
Feb. 13—Midland—there
Feb. 17—Creighton—there.

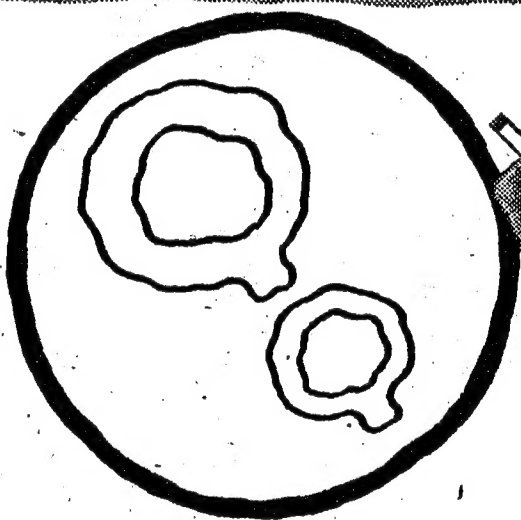

The Indian varsity will also play in the N. A. I. A. tourney Dec. 23 to 30. The "tip-off tournament" will be played in the Omaha City Auditorium. Eight of the top small college teams in the nation, including Creighton and OU, will compete.

Admission to home games will be activity cards for students, $1.50 for single reserve, and $1.00 for general admission.

HI! JOIN ME FOR A LUCKY DROODLE?

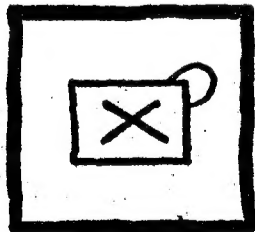

WHAT'S THIS?

For solution, see paragraph below.

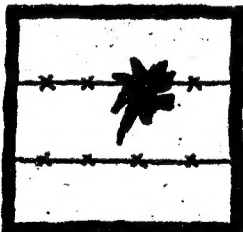

HERE'S A DROODLE THAT PACKS A PUNCH. It's titled: Lucky smoke rings blown by prizefighter with tooth missing. It packs a moral, too: Why knock yourself out looking for a better-tasting cigarette when all you have to do is light up a Lucky? Luckies taste better, first, because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, that tobacco is TOASTED to taste better. So light up a Lucky. It's the winner—and still champion—for better taste!

Tangerine Officials Fail to Pick Omaha

From the Sports Desk

Omaha University failed to get a nomination to the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla. The two teams playing will be Juniata College from Hummingdon, Pa., and Missouri Valley College at Marshall, Mo.

Missouri Valley won the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association crown and has an 8-1 record for the season. The team has lost only two games in the last three seasons.

Juniata has the second longest winning streak in the nation. Its 23 consecutive victories is topped only by Oklahoma.

In other top bowl games Michigan State and UCLA will feature Al Morrell, Michigan quarterback, who has made every All-American team this year, and Jim Decker, All-State standout from Omaha Holy Name in 1952. Decker has received national acclaim for his long runs and a sensational, last-minute field goal to win over Washington.

Oklahoma and Maryland Bid
The Orange Bowl pits Maryland, with their All-American center Bob Pellegrini, against Oklahoma. Pellegrini recently won the Colling award. Both teams are undefeated. Bob Bollinger, guard from the Sooners also made most All-American ranks.

Georgia Tech and Pittsburgh are slated for action in the Sugar Bowl New Years Day. Recent draft choice of the Washington Redskins, John Paluck is a speedy left end who is playing his final game of college ball.

Schwink Tops Scorers
The Cotton Bowl will feature Texas Christian and Mississippi. Jim Swink, the nation's top scorer, from TCU, will be the big gun of the afternoon. Bill Kinard of Mississippi was first draft choice of the National football champion Cleveland Browns.

Vanderbilt and Auburn will play in the Gator Bowl Dec. 21. Auburn has a record of eight wins, one loss and one tie; and Vanderbilt collected a 7-3 record. Auburn beat powerful Alabama last week 26-0 and was rated tenth in the Associated Press poll last week.

The East-West Shrine game at Kezar Stadium in Los Angeles has some of the top men from schools not participating in the bowl game as well as some of the New Year's day entries.

The Blue-Gray game Dec. 31 will consist of colleges not participating in the bowl games. Nebraska's Rex Fischer, along with Mike Falls of Minnesota, Fullback Doug Roether of Kansas State and Duke Kernsack of Colorado are among the earlier participants who have accepted bids to play.

Turkey Awarded ROTC Runners

First Intramural cross country meet in many years was held Nov. 21 on the OU campus and Elmwood Park. ROTC walked off with the individual and team prizes.

Larry Means ran the course of slightly under two miles in 10:41. Bob Barnes of Sig Ep placed second, and Jerry Hunter of PE Majors copped third.

ROTC Places Six Men
Other placings were Don MacMahill, PE Majors, fourth; Tony Kasun, ROTC, fifth; Lowell Huber, Sig Ep, sixth; Jim Dempsey, ROTC, seventh; Gerald Keithley, ROTC, eighth; Bill Barnes, Sig Ep, ninth; Jack Byers, ROTC, tenth; Jerry Wandell, ROTC, eleventh, and Charles Mitchell, Newman Club, twelfth.

Sig Ep Scores Second
In team scoring, ROTC placed first, Sig Ep second, PE Majors third, and the Newman club, fourth.

Mural Director Ernie Gorr stated that the meet was a big success and that the winning time is a record. He said plans are being made for a larger cross country program next year with more prizes. Means and the ROTC team received a turkey apiece.

Officials for the race were Col. Walter Shayler, Captain John Plantikow, Col. John Asp, Major Leroy Wenstrom and Football Coach Tom Brock.

Cindermen Get Early Track Call

Track Coach Ernie Gorr is issuing a letter of invitation to all track candidates to come and see him regarding workouts and the approaching season.

He is interested in all freshmen with high school experience, and in anyone who has the determination to try.

The team placed fourth in the national small college championships last year, and produced two national winners. Bob Barnes won the 400-meter hurdles at the Drake Relays and the NAIA Tourney at Abilene this summer, and Bill Barnes set a new record in the 220-yard low hurdles also at Abilene.

The first tentative meet is with Cornell College of Mt. Vernon, Ia., on Febr. 18. Another new school on the OU agenda is Pittsburg State Teachers of Kansas, a consistent placer in the Drake and Kansas Relays.

Intramurals Begin Winter Program

Preparations for Intramural table tennis are under way. Twenty-five men signed for singles play, Intramural Department Head Ernie Gorr announced.

A dozen of these players have also paired off for doubles competition. Both divisions will compete for eight weeks.

Individual activity is handled on a challenge type basis. The best two-out-of-three games determines the match.

A pyramid tournament is used to determine the singles opponents. This means all contestants are arranged in a triangular order. This was decided by a drawing of names.

Players Cannot Skip Matches

A player must challenge and defeat any opposing player in his row before choosing a foe in a higher bracket. No player is allowed to skip a row.

One point will be allowed for each win, while each loss incurs a subtraction of a point.

Additional bonus points will be awarded the top five positions. During December and January the closing days will be the 16 and 27, respectively.

Check Bulletin Board Regularly

For a complete rundown on rules, regulations, schedules and special notices, Coach Gorr advised that the Fieldhouse bulletin board be consulted regularly.

A list of the players' names and telephone numbers is also available to assist with the scheduling of doubles competition.

Bowling, Anyone?

The bowling competition is well underway, but Gorr states that Dana Tucker, secretary of the league, has failed to turn in the results of the competition over the last two weeks.

"Although the men are holding contests, the results aren't being tabulated onto the Intramural program sheet, and publicity has been nil for over half a month," said Gorr.

Sports Club Swims Weekly

The Watersports club will hold their fifth weekly meeting of the year Sunday night at the Jewish Community Center. Any full time student with an interest in swimming, diving, bathing suits, or parties is requested to attend. The club has had a party at Kings Lake, and a skating party at Ak-Sar-Ben.

Club officers are Jim Shainholtz, president; Ron Smith, vice-president; Barbara Peddicord, secretary, and George Johnson, treasurer. Another skating party combined with tobogganing will be held at Fontenelle Park as soon as weather permits.

Basketball Deadline Extended Till Dec. 2

Intramural Chief Ernie Gorr announced the deadline for basketball entries has been extended to Friday, Dec. 2.

Coach Gorr also said a meeting will be held at 3:15 p. m., Friday in the Fieldhouse for all Intramural team managers.

Sig Eps Grab Victory Over Pi Kaps in Hockey

Sig Ep won a clean, rough-fought hockey game last Monday night from Pi Kappa Alpha, 5-3. The game was played on the Ak-Sar-Ben coliseum ice, and fast action was blended with spills and bad coordination to make it an exciting evening for those attending.

Sig Ep's fast charging lines and Dick Eckstrom, consistent Pi Kap goalie, were the highlights of the game. Sig Ep Neil Shooter was high scorer with two goals. He was assisted by Glen Heagle, Jim Houghton and Ted Cajacob with one goal apiece. Bill Schmoller, Heagle, Rod Stone, Charlie Rice, and Tom Morrotto were credited with assists.

Tom Jones, Dick Mathews and Bud Dain collected points for Pi Kappa Alpha. Assists were given to Chuck French, Al Thompson, Dick Daley, and Dusty Decker.

Scattergunners Nab Birds During Season

By Larry Means

The absence of male students from the ivied halls these days more times than not has been due to the current hunting season. More than one class has been missed by more than one student so that he could leave the tranquil busy city life for an afternoon of "gunning" in the country.

Omaha Site of NAIA, OU Indians To Enter

The invitational tournament of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics will be played for the first time in Omaha this year. Omaha University and Creighton University will be entered in the 16 team tournament.

In an interview yesterday Al Duer, executive secretary-treasurer, said that the association anticipates keeping Omaha as the tournament site for future years. Formerly in Kansas City, Mo., the tournament was changed this year to Omaha because the only dates available there were just prior to Christmas and later dates would conflict with the Big Seven tournament there.

Tickets for the Dec. 28 through 30 tournament are available now at the Omaha Civic Auditorium. Prices range from $1.25 to $3.

"Thirty-two teams played in the first national tournament in 1940," said Duer, "however, the association began on a smaller scale in 1938. There are now 31 geographic districts throughout the United States, and a separate district selected at large for tournament play."

"From the 30 teams that organized the association, NAIA now has 450 member colleges and universities and 1,200 student athletes. The organization was first known as National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball, but became NAIA in 1952 with the addition of track, golf and tennis. That tournament has moved from Abilene, Tex., to San Diego Calif., for play this year June 8-9."

"Forty-five of our member teams are from Negro colleges which entered competition in 1952. This was the first tournament to permit competition among Negro colleges."

Thirty-two college teams, selected by district playoffs, will enter the March tournament. Nebraska Wesleyan represented Nebraska District 11 last year.

ROTC Riflemen Take Oregon State

The AF-ROTC riflemen chalked up another victory, squeezing by Oregon State 1892-1886 in a postal match held Nov. 14.

Ted Cajacob's 385 was high for the Indian marksmen. Richard Daley, 381; Park Ames, 376; Ronald Migis, 375 and Karl Klekers, 375 rounded out the OU scoring.

Today the Indians first and second teams will fire in the William-Randolph-Hearst matches. ROTC teams from all over the nation are entered.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick Bibler

"HEY, FELLAS! COME SEE MORTAL'S NEW RUN-UP."

Results of Nationwide AF-ROTC Poll Published by Colby College Officials

College AF-ROTC poll results, in connection with the Self-Study program sponsored by the Ford Foundation, have been released by Colby College officials. Faculty members, freshmen and sophomore men participated in the campus-wide survey. A questionnaire, submitted to a total of 247 men students, asked, "Do you favor continuance of the ROTC program with the first two years required?"

In answer, 46 freshmen and 25 sophomores voted yes; 97 freshmen and 78 sophomores voted no. When the advanced ROTC students were questioned, 15 out of 29 replied favoring continuance. According to the faculty poll, 40 out of 78 wished to see the program continued as a required part of the curriculum; 28 voted to have it elective and 10 members of the faculty disapproved of either alternative.

Should ROTC Be Elective?

The possibility of having ROTC an elective course was greeted with 102 favorable responses on the part of the freshmen and 74 on the part of the sophomores. Only seven of the 22 advanced students who returned the forms approved of this proposal.

Following this, the question was asked as to whether the student would take the course if it were elective. Freshmen who answered in the affirmative numbered 71 and those who answered in the negative numbered 67. The ratio among the sophomores was approximately 1:1, those voting yes 50, and no, 49. Eighteen of the advanced students said they would take the course if it were an elective.

Question of Civilian Instructors

The faculty was also questioned concerning the use of civilian instructors for the non-military units of the program. Forty-four of those questioned considered this idea beneficial. Moreover, 37 professors sanctioned the substitution of regular related semester courses for selected blocks of the program. Sixteen favored reduction of graduation credits from the present full credit for each course in Air Science.

Reduction in the number of classroom hours of instruction in the basic courses (first two years) from the present three hours per week required to the two hours per week minimum required by the Air Force evoked a positive reply from 20 of the faculty questioned.

NU Shortens Exam Period To One Week

Lincoln, Nebr. (I.P.)—The Faculty Senate at the University of Nebraska recently voted to limit the final examination period to one week.

The new regulation eliminates the traditional two-day free-reading period immediately preceding the examination period and lengthens the instructional period.

Three additional days of classes will be added to each semester under the new regulation. Registration will be after exams, instead of previous to the exam period. One free day will be provided before the second semester's classes begin for registration and mid-year commencement.

Students will not be dismissed from classes a week earlier with the shortened exam period. The university is in session a prescribed number of days. Any attempt to dismiss students early would endanger the University's accreditation and would cause confusion with the Veterans Administration for students under the G.I. Bill.

Examinations will be cut to two and one-half hours under the new regulation. Three exams a day and 19 test periods were scheduled under the original proposal. The regulation was presented under the joint auspices of the Policy, Liaison, Calendar and Final Examinations Committees.

Radio, TV Grant Offered to Coeds

Women planning a career in radio or television can now apply for a $500 scholarship. The second annual offer is made by the American Women in Radio & TV, Inc.

Junior women students are eligible. The scholarship must be used for academic study in radio and/or television, or for necessary expenses in on-the-job training, subject to approval of AWRP Board of Directors.

Jan. 16, 1956 is the deadline for scholarship entries. Application blanks may be obtained from the American Women in Radio & TV, Inc., 70 East 43th Street, New York 17, N. Y.

Applicants must have recommendations from the Dean of Students, two faculty members under whom she has studied and two personal references. Applicants will be judged on character, personality, stability, cooperation and adaptability.

Fewer Than Expected Go to Bail's Reception

Attendance was considerably under the expected at President Milo Bail's reception for new students and their parents Nov. 18.

The purpose was to tell the students and their parents how the students stand in classes and to suggest remedies where necessary.

University officials are considering reverting to inviting all students and their parents. In this way the University hopes to increase attendance.

Student Group To Distribute Policy Report

Philadelphia, Pa. (I.P.)—Results of a nationwide survey of student participation in college policy-making are expected to be published in a report this fall by the National Student Association, together with a limited number of booklets outlining the role of students in specific areas.

Believed to be the most exhaustive study of its kind, the survey will seek to determine the formal and informal powers accorded students, faculty, administration, trustees and alumni in the operation of colleges and universities. Major emphasis will be placed on the position of student government organization on campus.

Systematic information obtained from the survey will be supplemented by materials abstracted from college statutes, by-laws and other official documents. In addition, intensive study of 10 to 15 prominent schools, undertaken by a field representative of the research project, will highlight the survey.

Supported by a grant of $29,400 from the Ford Foundation, the survey, conducted during the past nine months, involved questionnaires to deans of students and student leaders at about 800 colleges and universities throughout the United States.

Truck for 'Booklift' Undergoing Tests

The first of the experimental "trucks" to be used during "Operation Booklift" has been completed and is now undergoing tests, Miss Ellen Lord, University librarian, announced.

The specially constructed vehicles have a capacity of approximately 300 volumes each. Miss Lord expects that 1,800 volumes will be transported each hour, or about 16,000 per day.

Thirty-eight students have been employed by the University to aid in the moving. In addition, a "relief team" will take over at intervals to give regular employees time to eat.

Over half the first level flooring has been laid in the new building and all steel shelving is in place. Post-moving activity will include moving the present steel stacks to the basement of the new building.

Students are urged to obtain material for term papers or re-the Library cannot offer services during the week of Dec. 19, search reports prior to Dec. 12, as

Sugarman Looks West for Next Job

Alfred Sugarman, assistant professor of speech, says he wants to return to the West Coast to teach next year. His resignation becomes effective Sept. 1, 1956.

First, however, he is getting his Ph.D. from Iowa University in Iowa City this summer. Sugarman came to OU after teaching at Iowa and Washington Universities.

While at OU, Sugarman has been active with University forensics and Panel of Americans.

He said, "I think students overlook a great opportunity by not becoming more active in these things."

He added, "There is no more important indicator of an educated person than his ability to speak and think clearly on his feet."

Guidance Tests Taken By 220 Day Students

Two hundred and twenty students took the Vocational Guidance examinations offered by the Bureau of Testing, Guidance, and Research.

Library Provides Stalls for 118 Cars

The new Library will include as part of its facilities three separate parking lots, total capacity being 118 vehicles.

One lot will be located in front of the building, with a capacity of 12 vehicles and intended primarily for students who wish to pick up books and other materials in a minimum of time. A five-minute time limit will be imposed.

Southwest of the building a lot with capacity for six vehicles will be reserved for the use of staff members. The main lot, with a capacity of 100 vehicles, is now under construction to the North of the Fieldhouse.

Students are reminded that parking will be prohibited in any of the above lots until the Library is actually open. During the final phases of construction, these lots are needed for deliveries, etc.

Lafayette, Ind. (I.P.)—Eleven colleges and universities have undertaken a study of the factors affecting the costs of higher education in America in the face of growing enrollments, inflation and demands for wider educational services. Purdue University is headquarters for the study.

The University of California will serve as the fiscal agent for the $150,000 Ford Foundation grant to cover the study that will include nine of the Big Ten universities, the University of California and Wabash College.

Survey to Cover Three Areas

The study is expected to provide data that will furnish for the first time, figures on which institutions of higher education, both privately and publicly supported, can base planning and programming for operating expenses and capital funds for the future. A committee to do general survey work will be composed of two persons from each of the member institutions.

The survey will cover three general areas, institution and research, general and administration and physical plant. Much of the detailed work will be carried out by members of the staff at each institution in cooperation with a central study staff.

Project Fiscal 'Yard Stick'

"The big value of this project, which is an outgrowth of the cost studies started over four years ago by this university and Indiana University at the request of the Indiana General Assembly, will be to supply facts or provide a fiscal 'yard stick' to measure future operating costs of colleges and universities, both public and private," said President Frederick L. Hoyde of Purdue.

"This is the first time such a comprehensive study has been made and is of great importance to the entire field of higher education in this country."
